

DAYTON TAYLOR. The Philadelphia Press says: "On the suggestion of Mr. Cameron, the Secretary of our Legation to Russia has been offered to Bayard Taylor, by whom it will probably be accepted. Let us confess that Bayard Taylor would be as available to the powers that be, as we may confidently predict, it will be satisfactory to the country. Mr. Taylor is a Pennsylvanian and a journalist of admitted ability, an author of world-wide reputation, a general, like his namesake, Bayard Taylor, and a poet of some repute. He will owe his appointment to no partisan act or influence, for that is known of his political feeling, that he is an unclouded Union man, who understands and appreciates the Constitution, and would lead the host of his kind in its defense."

"Bayard Taylor is a good linguist,"—small qualification at the Court of St. Petersburg, where French and English, German and Italian, are more than the language of the country. Moreover, he is also known and esteemed in Russia, which his plume has favored. Indeed, although yet a young man (he was born in Kennett Square, Chester county, in January, 1825), no living man has seen so much of the world as Bayard Taylor. From Shanghai to Cap Horn, from the sources of the White Nile, from Turkey to Japan, from the New World to the "farther Ind," and Cathay, he has traversed many lands, and has published such narratives of his journeyings, that the public have acquired a personal acquaintance with the records of his enterprise and observation. The proof of his continued popularity as an author is to be found in the fact that, even in these dull times, the new edition of his "Practical Notes on the Pacific," by Mr. Taylor, New York, has so largely as already to be remunerative to both parties. Bayard Taylor, too, has fine poetic feeling, and his verses, though not so well known as his prose, have many admirers, and will always repay the reader who is not content with the commonplace. He can serve his country, and we shall hope to greet him on his return, in a few years, untouched by the cares of office, unimpeded by the provincial views of diplomacy. Every journalist will rejoice, as we do, at the elevation of a so well known and highly valued brother. His craft to a position so honorable as that which, it is said, has been tendered to Bayard Taylor."

THE PHOENIX ON DEER PARK.—Assuming an army of 600,000 men formed in line, single rank, they will show a front of 23 miles, allowing 2 feet to a man, says the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, which is rather close packing for free movement. We could counter-march one-half the right wing—and place them at a rear rank (the usual formation), and we have a front of 11½ miles, which distance they would require when marching in column of platoons. Should the generalissimo wish to make a rapid inspection, if he had the army of 600,000 men, he could march a column of 23 miles, and a fast locomotive, he may run down in front of the line in a quarter of an hour, and make a hasty review. If mounted on his charger, at a smart trot, it would require about a half hour. This respectable army, formed in hollow square, would show a front of 23 miles, and a rear of 23 miles, showing on each front a fraction under three miles. The enclosure would contain about 5,700 acres, an area equal to some immense Indian corn fields in Illinois. When marching in column, it would require 23 miles to reach the point left by the right wing in the early start. When we add the commissariat, artillery, ammunition, and other wheel transport, we must give the army two whole days before the "wing double" from the starting point of the right wing. If this immense army were formed in solid square, allowing about 4 square feet for a man, they would cover about 150 acres, and form a block of bayonets a fraction under a quarter of a mile square. Estimating each man as weighing 150 pounds, and assuming a fraction of 150,000 tons weight. Allowing two pounds of provisions per day for each man, they consume 600 tons per day, and if they take one quart of water per day, which is not too much, it extends from the northern base of Western Virginia to the southern line of Tennessee and North Carolina.

THE SWITZERLAND OF THE SOUTHERN STATES, and the people of that mountain region have, apparently, all the love of the Swiss cantons, and their spirit of resistance to oppression. Western Virginia promptly and boldly refused to accept of the destiny prepared for it by the Wise, the Tylers, the Letchers, and the Floyds at Richmond; and the people were enabled, from their remoteness to Ohio and Pennsylvania, to make good their resistance to the secession oligarchy. LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

REMOVAL OF COLORED PERSONS TO PENNSYLVANIA.—Two bills have been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature to prevent colored persons from entering the State, under penalty of fines and imprisonment. It is stated that these bills are supported by a large number of letters from the Pennsylvania Legislature to the Louisville Journal, and that the Legislature of that State is now considering them. The bills are intended to prevent colored persons from entering the State for the purpose of making it their permanent place of abode or for any other purpose whatsoever. Persons violating the provisions of this act shall be liable to a fine not more than $500, and for the second offense to a fine not more than $1,000, and in addition undergo an imprisonment of not less than six months nor more than twelve months, at the discretion of the court.

A RAILROAD "STINK."—The Lafayette Journal says a portion of the track of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railroad has run out of sight three times. The space where this occurs is about two hundred feet long. After losing two tracks, the company immediately placed a new one in its place. They are now driving down piles of over fifty feet in length, and yet have not found hard ground. The place where this occurs is supposed to have been once occupied by a lake over which vegetation has spread this century. There is another place where the track was apparently run out, but the track will sink some day for the space of half a mile. Suppose the crust should give way one day suddenly, under the weight of a heavy passenger train, and cars, passengers, and locomotive should be in a trice disappear from sight?

MARRIAGE OF BARON ROTHSCHILD.—The civil marriage of Baron Rothschild, took place on Wednesday, March 12, at Frankfurt. The religious ceremony was performed on the following day at the synagogue, by the great Rabbi of the community of Paris. All the members of the Rothschild family from Paris, London, and Vienna were present.

TENNESSEE ITEMS.—We have received the Seventh Brigade Journal of the 5th inst., published at Columbia, Mary county, Tennessee, which we gather contains some interesting news. Brigadier General James H. Negley has been appointed by General Buell Post Commander at Columbia, and on the 31st inst. issued the following order:

I, This Camp will be known as Camp Morehead in honor of General C. Morehead, M. C. of Pennsylvania.

The commanding General expects a continuance of the strict discipline and gentlemanly conduct which has already earned an enviable reputation for this brigade. He expects that the men of this brigade will be marked by kindness and prudence, and will not forget their high responsibility, or for a moment be influenced by pride, and disregard the enemies of their country.

Gen. Negley has appointed Captain Thomas H. Green Provost Marshal of the city. Capt. Green's company—Company K, 1st Wisconsin, and company A, 7th Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, from the Provost Guard.

The Journal adds:

The efforts of the Mary county Court have resulted in Gen. Negley for permission to hold court on Monday. They have represented that all the efforts of the county have been made to support the Constitution of the United States, and that they have not taken any action to support the Confederate States; on these representations, and on conditions that nothing contrary to the laws of the United States should be done, Gen. Negley has, we understand, given his permission, as far as that department is concerned, for the gentleman making the application. In accordance with this agreement, it is understood that the court will sit at the usual hour on Monday, the 7th inst.

The court, however, which was to be held at the residence of a private citizen, has been postponed temporarily as a barracks, has been supplied by order of the court.

A great number of citizens of Mary county have appeared before Gen. Negley, at his headquarters, and voluntarily taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. One old gentleman remarked, after he had taken it, that he had taken the same oath every day for the last twenty years, and he was now to regret it. Among those who have voluntarily taken it are three officers, lately in the Confederate army, who have wisely concluded to stay at home. Such names will probably be granted by Gen. Negley.

Mr. W. J. Hubbard and two sons, who were in the Confederate service and taken prisoner at Fort Donelson, have arrived at their home. For some time past, they have been in the hands of the Confederates, and have been treated with great kindness. They have been released, and have returned to their home.

THE BEST SHOT FOR PENETRATING IRON PLATES.—The relative values of spherical shot and flat-headed bullets to penetrate iron plates is discussed in the British papers, and recent events in this country have given a greater degree of significance to these discussions. Withworth, in his rifle cannon, has shown that a spherical bullet will penetrate a plate of iron of a thickness of one inch, while a flat-headed bullet will penetrate a plate of iron of a thickness of one inch.

THE FLAT-HEADED BULLET.—The flat-headed bullet is that which Withworth has used in his rifle cannon, and with which he has shown that a spherical bullet will penetrate a plate of iron of a thickness of one inch, while a flat-headed bullet will penetrate a plate of iron of a thickness of one inch.
